Meg Handler brings a love of Vermont's landscapes and her experience as an attorney and mediator to her passion for real estate.

After growing up in Connecticut, Meg earned her Bachelor of Arts from Yale University and then worked for Digital Equipment Corporation, based outside of Boston. At this technology company, Meg worked as a legal assistant for three years during the company's heyday and before its purchase by Compaq.

Meg decided to pursue her legal interests further and next earned a law degree from Columbia University's School of Law, after which she worked for two years at the high-profile New York law firm Sullivan & Cromwell. While in New York, Meg took on pro bono work for the Natural Resources Defense Council, a non-
