In January, at the time of my reappointment to the board, I let you know that I would likely step down from the Hinesburg Development Review Board within the year. That time has come. I would like to resign my position by the end of June.

The timing seems appropriate as we've closed the larger, more complex projects until future review phases or applications. Also, given our schedule in June, I will very likely be able to finalize the current applications under review at or by the June 16th meeting. Certainly, I plan to finalize decision language and vote on these applications even in the event that they go beyond the June 16th meeting.

Over the last several months my personal reasons for leaving the board have become even more evident as my capacity to keep up with all the commitments I have has truly reached its limit. I've got to let something go and, after careful reconsideration have reached the same conclusion that I did in January, this board position is one place I can do that.

This is not an easy decision to make. I have truly enjoyed the challenge this board poses and working with my fellow board members, applicants and our planning staff. I thank you for the opportunity to have served this wonderful community and hope to be able to actively serve again at some future point on this or another board or committee.

Sincerely,
